The Venerable Martyr Ioasaph

Ioasaph was a disciple of St. Niphon, Patriarch of Constantinople, and labored in asceticism on the Holy Mountain. He had so great a love for Christ that all of his ascetic works seemed inadequate, and from love he desired to suffer for his Lord. For that reason, he went to Constantinople, where he openly confessed to the Turks his faith in the Holy Trinity and the Son of God. The enraged Turks beheaded him on October 26, 1536.

The 6th Sunday of St. Luke

Welcome!

To Our Guests:

While we are not yet in formal inter-communion with other faith traditions, we have much respect for their rites of worship and sanctuaries of prayer. In our tradition, Holy Communion is open only to those Orthodox Christians who are in good standing with the Church and have prepared themselves by prayer, fasting and a recent confession. Please do not be offended by this if you are not an Orthodox Christian or in good standing with the Church. We welcome you to our church and invite you to receive a blessing and partake of the blessed bread at the end of the Divine Liturgy.

*The weather is always very warm during the summer months. While we need to dress comfortably because of this please remember that shorts or above-the-knee attire, strapless garments, “spaghetti” strap garments, sleeveless or “tanktop” type garments, and tight-fitting, open or low-cut garments are not appropriate, especially for men, women and teenagers. It has always been our tradition to dress modestly and without drawing attention to oneself. Thank you.

Orthodox Thoughts from Theo, the Parish Possum

The Holy Orthodox Church teaches that, eventually, the body of the righteous person is sanctified and transfigured along with the soul. For this reason, the relics of saints occupy an important role in the life of the church.

We believe that the grace of God resides in the bodies of the saints and that this grace continues to be active in their relics after death. Such relics are a channel of divine power and healing. All Orthodox churches contain relics where they may be venerated. These may consist of body parts, clothing or small fragments attached to the icon of a saint. There are seven major Orthodox shrines in the U.S., including those of St. John the Hesychast in Arizona and St. Raphael of Brooklyn in Pennsylvania. At St. Basil, the Sanctuary contains relics of St. Basil, St. Raphael of Brooklyn, St. John of Shanghai and San Francisco, St. Blaise and St. Moses the Ethiopian. The altar holds a relic of St. Stephen Protomartyr and, in the antimension on the altar, a relic of St. James the Apostle. Since the Orthodox Church shares many of the ancient saints with the Roman Catholic Church, relics may also be found in most of its churches. In Thibodaux, Louisiana, St. Joseph's Cathedral has the arm of St. Valeria of Milan, wife of St. Vitalis of Milan and mother of St. Gervasius, all early Christian martyrs. Praise be to God as revealed in his saints! — Theo

Our Littlest Members

Christ said, "Let the little children come to Me, and do not forbid them; for such is the kingdom of heaven" (Matthew 19:14). In the Orthodox Church, we embrace and welcome our littlest parishioners to join in the Divine Liturgy. They are our future and we want them raised from birth involved in the liturgical experience.

While generally, silence and stillness are valued in worship, the noise of children, especially if they are playfully making noise or expressing themselves, is often viewed as a part of the joyful and vibrant nature of Orthodox worship. It is considered "Holy Noise." The beautiful, resonating sound of our children's cooing or laughter is warming to our hearts.

However, if your child should become fussy, out of control, or inconsolable, please be respectful to those around you and leave the Nave to provide comfort for our little member. They can be brought outside or to St. Basil's Comfort Room. Once consoled and in good spirits, return with our sweet parishioner to resume the liturgy.

Please also remember that there is NO FOOD allowed in church and that includes baby formula (bottle-feeding) and snacks. If our little one is hungry, please bring them to the St. Basil's Comfort Room to feed them. The exception to that is our breastfed little ones. Breastfeeding during worship services is acceptable, but with a focus on discretion and modesty.

To our parents of little ones, we join you in loving prayer and support as you raise the next generation of Orthodox believers. GOD BLESS YOU!
